For reference

(1) Refusal to the registration of stock ownership transfers:

Fuji Media Holdings, Inc. is a certified broadcast holding company that, under the Broadcast Law, will lose its certification if with regard to the voting rights owned by foreigners as stipulated in the Broadcast Law, the aggregate of the ratio of voting rights directly owned by a person or persons set forth in items (i) through (iii) above, and the ratio of voting rights owned by such person or persons, indirectly through any person or persons set forth in item (iv) above as stipulated in the Ordinance of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and Communications reaches 20% or more of the total voting rights. For this reason, when the foreign ownership ratio reaches this limit, a certified broadcast holding company may refuse any request from foreigners for the registration of stock ownership transfers or otherwise to have their shares registered or recorded in the register of shareholders, or place restrictions on the exercise of voting rights by foreigners (Article 161, paragraphs 1 and 2 of the Broadcast Law).

(2) Payment of dividends to foreigners whose registration of stock ownership transfers is refused:

As publicized on December 25, 2008, as from January 5, 2009, the Company allows such shareholders as of each record date as to be notified in a notice of information on shareholders provided by Japan Securities Depository Center, Inc. to exercise all rights other than voting rights that may be exercised by shareholders as of each such record date. Dividends for the record date of March 31, 2009 or thereafter have also been paid to foreigners whose registration of stock ownership transfers has been refused as the foreign ownership ratio has reached 20% or more.

Of the number of shares owned by foreigners as of March 31, 2013, the number of shares in respect of which the registration of stock ownership transfers had been refused was 163,897 shares, representing the ratio of 6.93% to the total number of issued shares.
